Basics of Standard Writing and Standards Writing Competition

02nd August 2023

REPORT

Time: 11.00 am

Venue: Seminar Hall, GSC Vankal

The Standards Club of Government Science College (GSC), Vankal (Surat) in association with the Bureau of Indian Standards, Surat Branch (BIS-SUBO), organized a seminar on “Basics of Standard Writing” and “Standard Writing Competition” on 02nd August 2023. The event started at 11.00 am with lightening of lamp and worshipping the almighty. The guests were formally welcomed. The technical session started with an introduction to the theme and schedule of the event given by Dr. Anil Kumar Singh, the mentor of standards club at GSC Vankal. Dr. Singh familiarized the audience with the BIS, its activities and importance of standards in our daily life. He explained the process of standard preparation, people involved and role of BIS in standardization process and its enforcement. With the help of Indian Standard (IS) of Helmet and School Bag, he explained the important aspects of a Standard Document. Later in the session Mr. Manoj Godhaniya, BIS representative, further described the structure of an IS, different heads that can be included and content that needs to be incorporated in each of the different heads. He also emphasized on important points that one should keep in mind while writing standards. He showed a promotional video of BIS to highlight the vision and purpose behind establishment of Standard clubs at educational institutes and the importance of Standard Writing Competition.

In the afternoon session students were provided with sheets having skeleton of IS and were told to write about standard of “Packaged Drinking Water”. Once the writing was over, the sheets were evaluated by Mr. Manoj and Dr. Singh and the best write ups were selected for cash prizes. While announcing the result of the competition Dr. Singh explained the criteria that the judges had used to evaluate the standards written by them and suggested the shortcoming in their write ups for them to improve their skills and understanding.

Students enjoyed the event and learned many new aspects of science and scientific techniques. They also realized the application of the analytical and instrumentation techniques that they learn in their syllabus.

Total 160 students participated in this event and gained both skill and knowledge.

During the vote of thanks Dr. Singh expressed his heartfelt thanks to Mr. Sanjay Kumar Singh (Director and Head of the BIS-SUBO), Dr. Parthiv Chaudhari (Principal, GSC Vankal), Mr. Nitin Doriya (Promotion officer, BIS-SUBO), Mr. Manoj Ghodhaniya, Staff members of GSC Vankal and all students for their active participation.

The event concluded with singing of national anthem.
